Dear Friends,

This year, we celebrated Interfaith Philadelphia's 20th anniversary and I am filled with gratitude and pride as I reflect on our journey. Our mission to bridge gaps and foster understanding of diverse faith communities in Philadelphia has shaped who we are today.

Our work began humbly, moving furniture into our offices at the Philadelphia Episcopal Cathedral, our home for nearly a decade. This experience symbolized the heavy lifting required to establish a foundation for interfaith collaboration. Over the years, we have faced numerous challenges, from countering hate messages in our city to fostering dialogue during the pandemic. Through it all, we have remained committed to building relationships grounded in trust and understanding.

Our achievements are rooted in the dedication of our staff, Board, and community partners. Our programs, like the Walking the Walk® Youth Initiative and Visionary Women, have empowered the next generation of leaders to embrace and advocate for interfaith understanding. Our Dare to Understand® Award honors those who embody our vision and inspire others to build the kind of world we want to inhabit.

Our journey has taught us that change is a collaborative effort. It requires patience, humility, and the willingness to hold space for multiple perspectives. With your continued support, we can envision a future where Philadelphia is a beacon of the ideals imagined in our great democracy.

As we stand on this two-decade foundation, I thank you for investing in this work and for being part of our story.

With deep gratitude and respect,

Abby Stamelman Hocky
Executive Director

Our Vision

Since our founding in 2004, Interfaith Philadelphia has challenged people across sectors to dare to understand one another. Our bold vision is to have our region reflect the vibrancy of a religiously diverse democracy, one in which all people are valued, distinctive traditions are welcomed, and people of diverse backgrounds collaborate to shape a just and compassionate society.

Our Mission

In order to promote social harmony and interreligious understanding, Interfaith Philadelphia equips individuals and communities for interfaith engagement, builds collaborative relationships, and stands in solidarity with our diverse neighbors.

LEADERSHIP INSTITUTE

Intended for professional and personal development, the Leadership Institute of Interfaith Philadelphia offers curated pathways and experiences to build knowledge, skills, and relationships for interfaith engagement.

Workplace Trainings and Consultations

Our expert staff assists employers in addressing diversity, equity, and inclusion issues related to religious diversity. This year, we consulted with dozens of organizations, companies, hospitals, schools, and government entities, planning and facilitating workshops, training programs, and seminars to foster understanding, cooperation, and positive relationships among individuals from diverse backgrounds.

Leadership Institute Facilitator Training

In order to expand our capacity, the Leadership Institute launched a new initiative to train professionals to co-facilitate Interfaith Philadelphia programs. The curriculum focuses on building facilitator confidence, enhancing self-awareness, and understanding how identity impacts facilitation approaches. The 13 participants learned strategies to navigate difficult situations, be grounded in best practices for inclusive and anti-discriminatory facilitation, and develop ease in collaborative co-facilitation.

The Pennsylvania Association of Independent Schools, a state association serving over 120 schools across PA and DE, engaged us to train educational leaders on Navigating Difficult Conversations Around the Global Crisis and Polarizing Political Climate.

Navigating Difficult Conversations

The ongoing crisis in the Middle East left many people unsure of how to approach conversations with family, friends, and colleagues who were directly or indirectly affected. Tensions increased in schools, on campuses and in the workplace. As a result, we saw a strong demand for this offering. This year, we hosted 12 workshops for 370 participants.

Civil Conversations

More than 200 cross-sector professionals engaged in structured, guided conversations exploring challenging and often divisive topics. They gained skills for crucial dialogue in diverse settings around the region — in workplaces, schools, congregations, and beyond. We facilitated workshops with a range of organizational and corporate partners, including the Bucks-Mont Collaborative, a health and human services membership organization. We also trained more than 40 people to facilitate Civil Conversations across the region.

Build Religious Literacy

In this multi-session cohort program, participants learned about faith traditions through a “living library” of practitioners. The program covered Sikhism, Evangelical Christianity, Islam, Judaism, the Baha’i Faith, and The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Visionary Women

Over 50 women from multiple religious, ethnic, and racial backgrounds participated in this half-year program that explored the intersection of faith, gender, and social justice. Sessions were held at the Islamic Society of Greater Valley Forge, Beth Am Israel, Unitarian Universalists of Mt. Airy, The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, and Greater Community Bible Tabernacle.

Art of Interfaith Understanding

In this series, participants explored the intersection of art and faith. Most of the offerings were held in partnership with the Philadelphia Museum of Art's Office for Community Engagement (PMA). In addition to public tours, congregations and other organizations arranged for curated tours on topics of their choice.

TOUR TOPICS:

- Seeing the Sacred in the Ordinary at the PMA
- Meditating Like a Monk: Prayerful Looking in the Cloister at the PMA
- Art and Spirit in Your Life on Zoom
- The Christmas Story in Art at the PMA
- Prophets of Hope at the PMA
- Prayerful Looking at the PMA
- Contemplative Looking at the InLiquid Art and Design Gallery
- God's Word in Art and Text at the Church of the Redeemer, Bryn Mawr
- Judaism and Art at the PMA
- The Bible in Art at the PMA for St. John's Lutheran Church, Mayfair

Foundations of Interfaith Leadership LIVE

Offered in collaboration with Interfaith America, Foundations of Interfaith Leadership LIVE was held twice this year. This online learning opportunity pairs facilitated skill-building sessions with asynchronous learning. Participants joined the program from across the country and from many disciplines, and received a certificate and LinkedIn badge upon completion.

YOUTH INITIATIVES

Youth Initiatives foster understanding, respect, and collaboration among young people from diverse religious backgrounds. Students explore faith traditions and cultures that make up our region, while gaining skills to engage across difference.

Interfaith Encounters Alternative Break

This year, students from four universities – Bryn Mawr College, LaSalle University, Messiah University, and Rosemont College – joined us for Alternative Break trips. They visited ten area faith communities and engaged in service projects related to housing and food insecurity.

2,347 ELEMENTARY SCHOOL, MIDDLE SCHOOL, HIGH SCHOOL, AND COLLEGE STUDENTS REACHED

Interfaith Book Trail

Now in its second year, the Interfaith Book Trail offered elementary school students and their families in Southern Delaware County a unique opportunity to explore diverse faiths through books, art, and reflection on key aspects of their identities.

School Partnerships

Educational institutions turned to us to help their students, teachers, and parents foster interfaith understanding, dialogue, and cooperation. School partnerships focus on promoting empathy, cultural competence, and interfaith literacy. Examples of offerings this year included:

- Middle schoolers at Gesu School participated in a 5-week Passport to Understanding workshop that integrated into their existing curriculum.
- Sixth graders at C.C.A. Baldi Middle School, after studying Christianity, Islam, and Judaism, learned from panelists about prayer in their respective faith and spiritual traditions.
- Student athletes and leaders at North Penn High School learned skills for Navigating Difficult Conversations.
- Following the onset of the crisis in the Middle East, local schools called on us to provide professional development and student programming to help them navigate challenges in their communities and in the classroom. We offered Navigating Difficult Conversations and Passport to Understanding workshops, hosted panel discussions, and conducted customized consultations.

Youth Neighborhood Summer Mosaic

This summer, 6th-8th grade students from across the city, representing at least six faith traditions and worldviews, participated in our free, week-long Mosaic program. Utilizing our Passport to Understanding curriculum, they strengthened their identities while building connections with their peers. Students shared sacred objects, engaged with Interfaith staff and interns, and explored Christian, Muslim, and Jewish traditions. This year's Mosaic programs were hosted in partnership with the St. Thomas Aquinas Center and Praise Center (South Philadelphia), Gesu School (North Philadelphia), and Vision Academy Charter School (Lansdowne).

"As part of my internship with Rosemont College's campus ministry, I participated in Interfaith Philadelphia's Alternative Break retreat. It was one of the most amazing experiences I've ever had. I moved outside of my comfort zone, discovered a wealth of new information about many cultures, and made connections with people I would never have imagined possible."

Religious Leaders Council of Greater Philadelphia

The Religious Leaders Council of Greater Philadelphia was founded in 2006 to build relationships of mutual support, offer a moral and spiritual voice in the region, and identify issues of local concern for dialogue and action. Senior leaders from thirty-six diverse religious communities make up the Council, representing more than two million people across the region.

- On February 20, 2024, the Council held an interfaith inaugural prayer service for newly elected Mayor Cherelle L. Parker and members of Philadelphia City Council at the Cathedral Basilica of Saints Peter and Paul.
- The co-conveners of the Religious Leaders Council, in tandem with Interfaith Philadelphia, stood in solidarity with communities experiencing anti-Muslim and anti-Jewish vandalism.
- On National Gun Violence Awareness Day (June 7, 2024), the Council partnered with Penn Arts Live and over 50 other organizations to host Toll the Bell, a powerful city-wide sound installation. This event featured a vigil and the simultaneous ringing of bells across Philadelphia to recognize those lost to gun violence.
